Huge crowd welcomes D.K. Shivakumar

Mysuru, Nov.7 (RKB&DM)- Senior Congress leader and former Minister D.K. Shivakumar, who was released from New Delhi's Tihar Jail recently, was given a rousing reception by thousands of Congress workers upon his arrival at the City Railway Station this morning.

This is Shivakumar's first visit to Mysuru after his release from jail. He was arrested by the Enforcement Directorate in connection with a money-laundering case in the first week of September and was released from Tihar Jail about a fortnight ago after a Delhi Court granted him bail.

Shivakumar, along with former Hunsur MLA H.P. Manjunath, arrived in city by Chennai-Mysuru, Shatabdi Express from Bengaluru at about 1 pm when thousands of party workers at the Station greeted him by raising slogans hailing him.

Party workers jostled to present bouquets and garlands to the Congress leader. Crackers were burst near the Babu Jagjivan Ram Circle just outside the Railway Station for a long period. Shivakumar was also presented a huge apple garland.

After coming out of the Railway Station, Shivakumar was taken in an open jeep to the City and District Congress Office located at a stone's throw distance from the Railway Station. The procession was accompanied by a host of folk troupes even as enthusiastic party workers continued to burst crackers.

KPL Spot Fixing

Two more players arrested

Former Karnataka players C.M. Gautam, Abrar Kazi taken into custody

C.M. Gautam

Abrar Kazi

Bengaluru, Nov. 7 (VNS)- The spot fixing case in the much celebrated Karnataka Premier League (KPL) is getting murkier by the day with more skeletons tumbling out of the shelves. The Central Crime Branch (CCB) in Bengaluru this morning arrested the two more players C.M. Gautam and Abrar Kazi, who have represented Karnataka in First Class cricket.

Gautam and Kazi were a part of Bellari Tuskers franchise in the KPL-2019 season. While, Gautam moved to Goa for the current first class season, Kazi shifted to Mizoram. In fact, the duo was also named in their respective State squads for the Syed Mushtaq Ali T20, which begins tomorrow (Nov.8).

"The CCB has made two important arrests in the KPL spot-fixing scandal. Bellary team captain C.M. Gautam and Abrar Kazi were arrested. They did spot-fixing in KPL 2019 finals between Hubli and Bellary. They were paid Rs. 20 lakhs for slow batting. Also, they fixed another match against the Bangalore team. Further investigations are on and more arrests will be made," said Sandeep Patil, Joint Commissioner of Police, in a text message to reporters in Bengaluru. The arrest of the duo came a day after the Police arrested another KPL player Nishant Shekhawat of Bengaluru Blasters squad during the tournament held early this year.

Polluted Koorgalli Lake cries for help

The polluted Koorgalli Lake.

By S.T. Ravikumar

Mysuru, Nov. 7-Among the oldest Lakes in Mysuru outskirts are Hinkal, Alanahalli, Lalithadripura, Nachanahalli, Koorgalli, Kergalli and Bommanahalli Lakes. While almost all these Lakes are in a dying state thanks to encroachment, pollution and rapid industrialisation, the Koorgalli Lake is probably destined to die early as lakhs of litres of industrial effluents and sewage flows into the Lake on a day-to-day basis.

The 21-acre Koorgalli Lake is located on the Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Road between KRS Road and Excel Public School. Probably the first government agency that dealt a death blow to the Lake is Karnataka Industrial Development Board (KIADB) that cut the vast lake into two parts to build a Double Road that links Lingadevarakoppalu and Maidanahalli. The two-kilometre road cuts through the Lake right in the middle dividing the water body into North and South. Both the Southern and Northern parts of the Lake are victims of pollution.

Writing on the wall

Going by reports from different regions of the country, its 731 districts have witnessed contrasting features of this year's South-West monsoon, which has drawn its curtain down to be followed by its North-East version. Hardly any reservoir has not got its full capacity of water, some of the dams getting overfilled forcing the authorities to keep all the crest gates open to the maximum extent, a few even posing threat of getting totally submerged. People of Mysuru, Mandya and Bengaluru districts don't have to zero in to the columns of dailies to read with bated breath the figures of water levels in the reservoirs from where their drinking water needs are meet twelve months in a year. Fear is bound to lurk in the minds of people with keen civic sense about the aam janata once again taking access to water for granted and resume their time-honoured act of wasteful and irresponsible ways with water supplied at great cost. Even the delay in the setting of N-E monsoon may not awaken them on the imperatives of keeping water use to the absolute minimum.

Mysureans are known to be least perturbed by reading (if at all) in the dailies about both scanty rains and excessive rains in different parts of Karnataka, apart from devastating floods in many rivers of north and north-east regions of the country, forcing mass shifting of the affected people and their belongings, including livestock to relief camps. Personnel of armed forces as well as paramilitary contingents have virtually broken their backs in rescuing the people in lakhs.

Not many in the districts of Karnataka may visualise the volatile nature of monsoon, conveniently feeling a sense of euphoria about lakes, which had run dry, getting water to their brim. Much worse, the civil society, in the august company of industrial units in the vicinity of rivers and other water bodies are yet to respond to the call of the authorities in different parts of the State not to indulge in senseless acts of encroaching to satisfy their greed for land, letting effluents into the river beds both openly and clandestinely, polluting the lakes by littering their banks and also blocking the pathways of water-flow into the lakes that are the only source of water for keeping the water table at ideal levels.

Various voluntary organisations as well as educational institutions have come out in the open in many cities including Mysuru to create awareness about remaining focussed in the matter of managing the gift of nature. Monsoon does give warning once in a few years on the consequences of taking it for granted. In short, the writing that India will be critically short of water to the extent of 40 percent in 10 years time is on the wall, while the land's people at large continue to remain unaware.

Hatching cannibals?: The vegetarian versus non-vegetarian debate continues but there are no winners yet. A recent round of the debate has taken on a different dimension. After the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) criticised the Mandya Pradesh Government's decision to introduce eggs in State-run Anganwadi (rural child care centre) meals, a Congress leader and Public Health and Engineering Minister, Sukhdev Panse, said: "BJP leaders are man-eaters. Many BJP leaders are involved in a lot of scandals." He also said the BJP's reaction was more like "a tempest in a teapot." That was in response to the leader of the Opposition, Gopal Bhargava, saying if children were given eggs from their childhood, they would turn into cannibals.

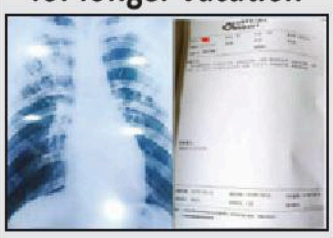
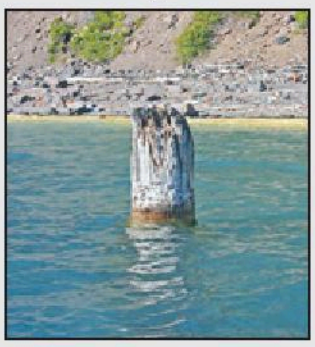
Teacher buys fake tuberculosis diagnosis for longer vacation



Beijing: An English teacher at a private school in China's Inner Mongolia region was forced to make a public apology after having bought a fake tuberculosis diagnosis online, just so he could take a longer vacation for China's National Day. The teacher, identified only as Mr. Du, reportedly paid 470 yuan ($67) for a fake chest scan and doctor's diagnosis on the internet, both of which showed that he was suffering from tuberculosis.

He then presented the documents to his employers, hoping it would convince them to approve a lengthier medical leave, allowing him to prolong his China's National Day vacation. But he never considered how serious his fake diagnosis actually was. Caught with the lie, Mr. Du, who parents say is very popular with students at the unnamed private school, admitted that he had tried to deceive his employees in order to prolong his vacation.

Tree log floating vertically for 120 years



Oregon: A floating tree stump known as the "Old Man of the Lake" has been bobbing in the blue water of Oregon's Crater Lake for at least 120 years, baffling scientists with its upright orientation and allegedly even controlling the local weather.

The first account of the Old Man of the Lake dates back to 1896, when geologist and explorer Joseph Diller described a splintered and bleached white log floating vertically in Crater Lake. Five years later, Diller observed that the unusual log had moved 400 meters from the location it had originally been spotted at. Further research would show that the Old Man of the Lake is able to move more than four miles in just one day, despite lacking any apparent means of propulsion. How it's able to do that is still a mystery, but it's only one of many.

Proposal for Outer Circular Bus Route

Sir,

This is in response to the letter by Ashok Bhushan (SOM dated Oct. 28) regarding direct buses from JP Nagar to Ramakrishnanagar. This is the need for every Mysurean, connecting neighbouring areas by city buses, either JP Nagar to RK Nagar or Siddhartha Layout to Vidyaranyapuram. Circular bus routes is the only answer for this.

Here is the proposed high-level Outer Circle Bus Route in consultation with Yogendra of Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP).

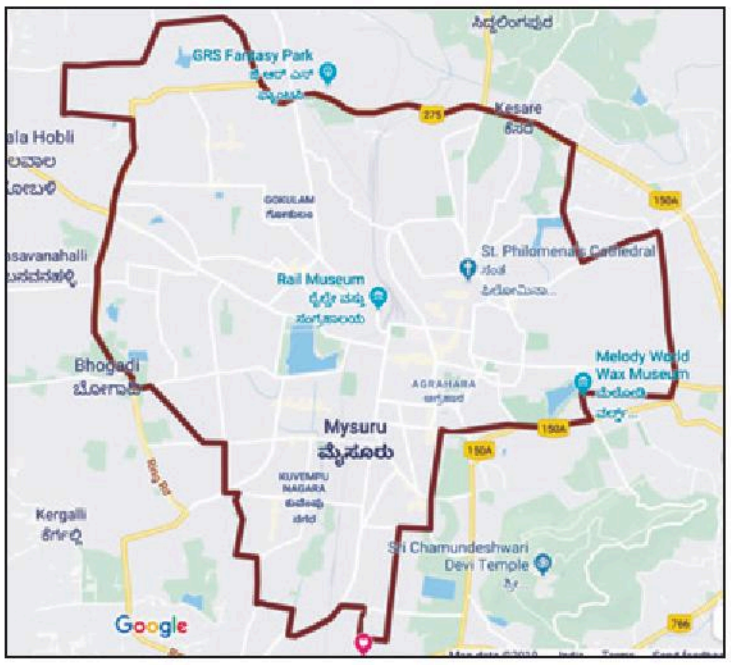
Take right towards Srirampura - Pass through Arvind Nagar towards Vivekananda Circle - Ramakrishnanagar Ruby Bakery - Ramakrishna Paramahamsa Circle and Tibbadevi Circle and reach Sharada Devi Circle via the Diagonal Road to reach Bogadi Road and finally Ring Road.

Pass on the Ring Road to reach RPG Telecables Road - RANE Madras and Infosys and rejoin Ring Road - Pass through KRS Road - Columbia Asia and take Service Road to reach Narayana Hospitals - Right at Narayana Hospitals - Udayagiri Mahadevapura Road - left towards Sathagalli Bus Stand - Pass through Shanthinagar and end the trip in Sathagalli Bus Stand. Same route anti-clock wise.

This route is around 40 kms. It might take around 1.5 hours - 2 hours to do a complete trip. 40 buses, with 20 buses in each direction can give something like 6-8 minutes frequency during peak hours. This would connect most of the important areas of Mysuru without touching CBS and Central Business District, decongesting it.



I request our District Minister V. Somanna to take up this and get a new fleet for KSRTC City Division. Officials can start a pilot service with good frequency of at least 10 minutes in one direction with 8-10 buses which is not a huge ask. If the frequency is less, this would become unsuccessful.

Tipu Jayanti: No stay on Government decision, says HC

Bengaluru, Nov. 7 (UNI)- Karnataka High Court yesterday declined to stay Government's decision not to celebrate Tipu Jayanti as State function. However, hearing a Public Interest Litigation (PIL), the Court directed the State to reconsider its policy decision within two months.

A Division Bench comprising Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice S.R. Krishna Kumar issued the directions after hearing a PIL challenging the State Government's July 30, 2019 order for cancelling the celebration as a State event.

Okay as a private event

Noticing that the Government has not banned celebrations of Tipu Jayanti by anyone as a private affair, the Bench directed the Government to take precautions to ensure such celebrations are held in peaceful and harmonious manner. The Government had stated in Court that it has not banned celebration of Tipu Jayanti by private people but have cancelled celebration by spending money from State exchequer.

The High Court Bench observed that Courts will have to go slow in interfering with policy decisions of the State. The Court pointed out that the decision to not celebrate Tipu Jayanti as a State event on Nov. 10 every year was taken without examining the orders passed by the Government in 2015 and 2016, giving elaborate reasons for celebrating the event by spending funds from the State exchequer. The earlier orders were not placed before the Government while deciding to withdraw the 2015 order.

As the Government reiterated its stand that there is no ban on the celebration by any person as a private event, the Bench directed the Government to take precautions to ensure such celebrations are held peacefully and in a harmonious manner.

The petitioners

The PIL petition was filed by Bilal Ali Shah, a resident of Lucknow, who claims to be Tipu Sultan's descendant, and two organisations, Tipu Sultan United Front and Tipu Rashtriya Seva Sangha, Bengaluru. Though the Government claimed that it need not assign any reason for changing the policy and the Courts cannot interfere in policy decisions, the Bench said the Courts can interfere in certain instances, particularly when policies are arbitrary, etc.

Court observations

In the present case, the Court said the Government in its 2015 and 2016 orders had stated that it had decided to celebrate Tipu Jayanti on the lines of many such birth anniversaries of various personalities to promote harmony and the spirit of common brotherhood among all the people of India transcending religious, linguistic and regional or sectional diversities as per Article 51A of the Constitution, and to safeguard secular principles.

However, the July 30 order for cancelling the celebrations as a State event was based on a representation given by an MLA from Kodagu district, who had pointed to law and order problems caused during celebration of Tipu Jayanti only in Kodagu district in the past.

Two months to Government

While observing that the change in policies should be made fairly not arbitrarily though the reasons need not be recorded, the Bench gave two months to the Government to take an appropriate decision afresh after considering materials and observations made by the Court.

The Bench declined to accept the contention of the petitioner that the July 30 order was illegal as there was no Council of Ministers on that date as only CM had assumed office. The Bench said that the Chief Minister, being a Minister, is empowered to take a decision as head of the Cabinet and advice appropriately to the Governor till the appointment of other Ministers. The Bench adjourned further hearing till third week of January 2020.

No permission for Tipu Jayanti at Bannimantap Parade Grounds; Fans stage protest

Mysuru, Nov.7 (SPN&DM)- Condemning the District Administration's refusal to give permission for using Bannimantap Torchlight Parade Grounds for celebrating Tipu Jayanti on Nov.11, Tipu fans and Congress workers led by MLA Tanveer Sait staged a demonstration in front of MUDA Office on JLB road here yesterday evening.

Addressing the protestors, Tanveer Sait said that following the Government's decision to cancel official celebrations, the MUDA was approached seeking permission to hold Tipu Jayanti privately at Bannimantap Grounds on Nov.11. But MUDA Officials refused permission, he rued.

Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar, Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna, MUDA Commissioner P.S.Kantharaju and other officials rushed to the venue and tried to convince the protestors. The protestors urged the authorities to let the grounds on rent for private celebration of Tipu Jayanti . They also assured the authorities that all the rules that will be laid down by the Police will be strictly followed without giving any scope for untoward incidents.

Former MLA M.K. Somashekar, former Mayor Ayub Khan, City Congress President R. Murthy and others took part.

City Police hold peace meeting

Even as Tipu fans staged a demonstration, the City Police held a peace meeting ahead of Eid-Milad and the much-awaited Supreme Court verdict on Ayodhya dispute, that is expected to come in a few days.

During the meeting at the Police Commissioner's Office here yesterday, the Police asked the people to celebrate Eid-Milad festival in a peaceful manner and not to take to the streets, whatever be the outcome of the SC verdict on Ayodhya. Instructing the people not to pay heed to any rumours or speculations that may appear on social media networks, the Police warned against making any provocative statements that may disturb peace and harmony in society.

Directing the people to strictly follow the Police instructions on these issues, the Police asked the public to inform the nearest Police Station or call the Police Control Room - 100 or Ph: 0821-2418339, if any trouble on the law and order front arises.

The Muslim community leaders who attended the meeting, assured that they would follow Police instructions and co-operate with cops in maintaining law and order. They also assured that the Police will be informed immediately if any attempts are made to disturb peace and harmony.

Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna, DCPs M. Muthraj and B.T. Kavitha and others took part.

Ministers ask Kodagu DC to suspend ZP EE for wrongdoing

ZP EE Srikantaiah

Madikeri, Nov. 7- Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) Minister K.S. Eshwarappa and Kodagu District In-Charge Minister V. Somanna have directed the Deputy Commissioner to suspend Kodagu ZP Executive Engineer (EE) Srikantaiah for crediting flood relief funds in a private bank in violation of the Government norms.

The Government had released Rs. 28 crore to the RDPR Department for taking up flood relief works, following which Kodagu DC Annies Kanmani Joy had issued a Rs. 21 crore cheque to the RDPR Department to be credited in a separate bank account.

But ZP EE Srikantaiah opened an account in Kotak Mahindra Bank and credited the Rs. 21 crore cheque in this account. Subsequently, the money was withdrawn from this account for various works and now only Rs. 21 lakh balance remained in the account.

As soon as the matter came to light, the District Authorities conducted a probe, during which Srikantaiah was found guilty of opening an account in a private bank with an ulterior motive and drawing money from it for works, which was in violation of Government norms.

As Srikantaiah was guilty of diverting Government fund to a private bank, ZP CEO Lakshmipriya wrote a letter to the State Chief Secretary on Oct. 9, recommending disciplinary action against Srikantaiah.

According to a Government directive, Natural Disaster Relief Funds must be credited in an exclusive account in a Public Sector Bank. But any credits to be made at a private bank must have Government sanction and the District Administration's approval. But in this case, Srikantaiah has violated the norms by not getting any approval from either the Finance Department or the District Administration.

ZP CEO Lakshmipriya said that administrative approval is a must for opening an account in a private bank for crediting Flood Relief Funds.

But it has found that Srikantaiah has violated the norm with an ulterior motive. The issue was discussed at a ZP meeting too, during which ZP members had demanded a probe.

Following the demand, she directed the ZP Chief Accounts Officer to conduct a probe. The probe report found Srikantaiah guilty of wrongdoing, following which she had written to the Government recommending action against the errant Executive Engineer Srikantaiah, she said.

Decoding Mythology

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

Shakti or Shaktiman?

I was recently trolled by a group of people. This was because I apparently had stated a claim that women are not powerful in India. I tried to figure out from where they had derived this alleged statement of mine and eventually realised that I had made a statement where I said that the word 'shakti' is feminine and the word 'shaktiman' is masculine. Now, while we use the feminine form to talk about power, we use the male form to represent the powerful. So, it was this sentence which was misquoted — as usual — by trolls, saying that Devdutt claims that women are not powerful in Hinduism.

Of course, one cannot do anything about the unique way of understanding trolls possess. This faculty twists and turns based on whoever happens to be paying them. But it does lead to the important question on the difference between 'shakti' and 'shaktiman'. Shakti being the object and Shaktiman being the subject that controls the object.

This idea is a recurring theme in Hinduism. In Hinduism, we often refer to the Hindu trinity. The male Hindu trinity is associated with creating, sustaining and destroying. In a language, these feature as verbs; hence, they convey a subject in action. While the female trinity of Lakshmi, Saraswati and Durga are associated with wealth, knowledge and power, respectively. These are essentially nouns, and most importantly inanimate objects, in contrast to the male deities, who are 'verbs' playing active role as sentient beings who are creating, sustaining, destroying.

Male deities thus embody the mind — that which creates, sustains and destroys. Female deities embody the matter/stuff/object which is created, sustained and destroyed — wealth, knowledge and power. Therefore, one can see a kind of a gender divide between nouns and verbs, between passive objects and active subjects, which is reflected in words like Shakti and Shaktiman.

In Tantrik thought, we are constantly taught that every God has a Shakti without whom he cannot be powerful, in other words, Vinayak has Vinayaki, Indra has Indrayani. Indrayani then becomes that tool or object that attributes divinity to the God. Thus, we see gender used as a metaphor to explain the relationship between the sentient subject and the insentient instrument. The sentient being seeks wealth, power and knowledge. The sentient being can be wealthy, powerful and knowledgeable. But wealth, power and knowledge can neither create themselves, not sustain or destroy themselves.

At a very philosophical and metaphysical level, these are gender-neutral ideas that are being communicated using gendered forms. Unfortunately, the form overpowers our mind and we start believing that the action 'is' masculine and the passive object 'is' feminine. Therefore, we assume that stories of Lakshmi are stories about women and stories of Shiva are stories about men, which is not what the Puranas are communicating. What they are communicating is this — the Gods are within us, the Goddesses are what we seek, consume and possess. The Gods enable us; the Goddesses sustain us. The Gods activate us; the Goddess is what we see.

A chain of GOODNESS does exist

By N.K.A. Ballal,
Retd. Sr. Vice-President, ITDC

> The lady began to weep and said, "Sir, nearly 40 to 50 people have come from the morning to give my 100 rupees note after reading the message tied to the electric pole. Trust me, I did not write that note. I cannot read or write, cannot see properly hence how can I write a note ?"

A small story: A man walking on the road in a small town found a piece of paper stuck to an electric pole. The paper had a small note written on it. So curious to know what was written, he went closer and read the contents. The note read, "I am a poor woman and have lost 100 rupees, somewhere around here. Anyone finds it please would be grateful if you can arrange to have it delivered to me at my residence. Due to poor eyesight, I can hardly see, so please help."

Ballal

The man followed the address and to his surprise found a dilapidated hut with a very old and frail lady sitting outside. As she heard the sound of footsteps approaching, the lady who looked frail and weak asked, "Who is it?" The man replied, "As I was walking on the road nearby I found 100 rupees note lying there and then I saw your note with your address on the electric pole. So I have come to give your money back to you."

Hearing this, the lady began to weep and she said, "Sir, nearly 40 to 50 people have come from the morning to give my 100 rupees note after reading the message tied to the electric pole. Trust me, I did not write that note. I cannot read or write, cannot see properly hence how can I write a note ?"

It is ok, said the man, take this money and get something for yourself. As he was about to leave, the woman said, "Sir, please tear the note when you pass by that electric pole." As the man walked back he wondered as to who could have written the note which moved him so much that he made an effort to find out the address and gave the lady the money too. And as she had told him, she would have definitely told all the 40 people who had come to give her the money, to tear the note, but nobody did it.

The man mentally thanked the person who had taken the trouble to write that note and thought to himself that if someone truly wants to help someone in need and makes an attempt, so many more would come forth to join this chain of kindness and make a positive difference. It just takes one person's genuine will to help and then there is always a way.

As the man was walking back, feeling happy, another man approached him and asked him the way to the lady's house saying, "Sir, I found a 100 rupee note belonging to the lady. Want to return it. Can you help me with this address?" The man gave the directions and went away smiling to himself.

Invasive, intertwined weeds cleared from Karanji Lake

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Mysuru, Nov. 7- Soon after rainwater flowing from the Chamundi Hill filled up the desilted Karanji Lake to the brim, the Zoo authorities that manage the Lake have got into the act of beautifying the Lake. A massive operation to clear the weeds and wild growth has been undertaken to prevent the growth of water hyacinth that choke the water and its living beings.

Zoo authorities said that the works will be completed within four or five days and after that the Lake will be full of clear water. Usually, the weeds grow on the sides of the Lake and dominate the water. Using a couple of boats, Zoo workers are clearing the weeds and drawing them to the shore.

BOAT BARRIERS

Once the weeds are collected, barriers are made using a couple of boats to prevent weeds from escaping back into the Lake. They are then physically pulled out to the shore from where they are disposed of.

Till recently, the Lake was bone dry and water filled up only after Oct. 5 when it rained heavily atop the Chamundi Hill. Water has filled the Lake due to constant efforts of the Zoo authorities including scientific desilting and clearing of Rajakaluves that naturally bring in water to the Lake from Chamundi Hill.

Including its garden, the Karanji Lake spans 77 acres and water will collect in 45 acres and in that 16,000 cubic metres have been desilted using the scientific 'Drawdown Method' to facilitate collection of more water.

PRESERVING NATURAL ENVIRONMENT

In order to preserve the natural environment that plays host to a variety of aquatic and bird species silt was not removed on the side of Lalitha Mahal Road (Rana Pratap Circle), Nazarbad and Regional Museum of Natural History side and watch tower) towards Vinaya Marga near Siddhartha Layout. But the entire area is dominated by water hyacinth, invasive vines.

Though there were many fish species that had taken shelter in this area, due to wild growth and decay, foul smell was emanating from here. The wild growth had covered the Lake as a thick blanket and water was not visible.

INTERTWINED WEEDS

Over 8 to 10 workers, armed with rowing boats, shovels and other drawing equipment are engaged in cleaning the Lake. Due to many years of growth, the wild vines are intertwined with each other, making it a Herculean task to remove manually.

Following complaints from the public that some areas of Karanji Lake stinks, Zoo authorities have clarified that the smell will remain for a month or so and no polluted water is entering the Lake from the surrounding areas. Zoo Executive Director Ajit M. Kulkarni told Star of Mysore that the smell is due to the decaying of wild weeds and invasive vines. "The decayed material is consumed by fish and other organisms. Also, we have started clearing the weeds now. The smell will be eradicated within a month," he said.

Ajit M. Kulkarni

BROKEN MANHOLE

"As people complained of bad smell, we discovered that a manhole had broken on the Rajakaluve that brings fresh water from the Chamundi Hill. Immediately, the Mysuru City Corporation authorities were alerted and the manhole was repaired. There is no sewage flow now," Kulkarni added.

Member-Secretary to Zoo Authority of Karnataka B.P. Ravi told Star of Mysore that the entire weed population is not cleared as there are living organisms that depend on weeds for food. "Only selected areas and selected weeds are removed. If there is fresh water in the Lake, lotus blooms and if the water is polluted, there will be Eichhornia or water hyacinth growth," Ravi added.

Residents break mesh; plastic waste flows into Lake

Mysuru, Nov. 7 (MTY)- Expressing concern over the relentless flow of plastic waste from Siddarthanagar and surrounding areas, Zoo authorities said that though they have put iron mesh at the water entry points from Siddarthanagar to filter plastic and other solid waste, local residents break the mesh and this has made plastic waste to flow into Karanji Lake.

Whenever it rains, Rajakaluve connecting Siddarthanagar and Karanji Lake bring in fresh water. A lot of plastic waste including bottles, discarded containers and polythene covers flow into the Lake. For this purpose, mesh and grills have been put at the entry points to the Lake. Unfortunately, a few elements break the grills and mesh and due to this, there is no preventing mechanism to ensure that plastic does not enter the Lake, officials said.

These plastic waste and leather pieces are choking the fish and other aquatic life. Officials have appealed to the residents not to break the mesh and grills but save the aquatic and bird species.

Koorgalli Lake cries for help

The KIADB's Double Road that cuts across the Koorgalli Lake.

Lakhs of litres of effluents and chemical-laced industrial waste from industries located at Belawadi and Koorgalli flows into the Lake. Added to this, sewage and drainage water flows into the Lake making it unfit for consumption. Residents of the area say that it is sure death if one drank its water.

The Lake bund is filled with construction waste with trucks dumping debris there every other day. The Lake is located on a Government land and comes under Koorgalli Gram Panchayat. Earlier, the Lake was full of birds and there were years when migratory birds used to flock to roost. Easy availability of fish in plenty was alluring to the birds. Gradually, the Lake lost its lustre and fish population died and birds too stopped coming here, say the villagers.

Unfit for human consumption

At the Northern side of the Lake, Koorgalli Gram Panchayat has dug a borewell to supply water to villagers. This water is being used by the villagers for washing purposes as it is unfit for human consumption.

Villagers say that there was a Rajakaluve from Belawadi that supplied natural water to the Koorgalli Lake. The Rajakaluve, was however, closed and the water link was permanently severed. Village Accountant of Maidanahalli Circle Shivappa told Star of Mysore that sometime back the KIADB and Gram Panchayat had conducted a joint survey of the Lake.

"During the survey, we realised that there is not much of encroachment of the Koorgalli Lake. There is some encroachment by the village graveyard and the villagers have assured us that they will vacate the land if the Government has plans to rejuvenate the Lake.

Revenue Department survey

He revealed that one year back, the Revenue Department had asked the Mysuru District Administration to provide a status report on the existing lakes in Mysuru. "Since the Koorgalli Lake falls within my jurisdiction, I had reported that entry of the sewage into the Lake must be stopped and the Lake can be rejuvenated," he said.

The Karnataka Urban Water Supply and Drainage Board (KUWS&DB) had constructed a Sewage Treatment Plant (STP) at Yelwal. "If an STP is established at Koorgalli Lake to block and treat sewage before it flows into the Lake, it will prove a lot more beneficial to Koorgalli Lake," Shivappa added.

Panchayat has no funds

Basavanna, Panchayat Development Officer of Koorgalli says that the Panchayat has no funds to develop or rejuvenate the Lake. "Software companies and Industries must come forward to save this dying Lake. Like Infosys, through its Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) Funds, has brought life back into Hebbal Lake and JK Tyre has rejuvenated the Tavarekatte Lake. We have already discussed the issue with the Mysuru Deputy Commissioner and the process is on," he explained.

Tahsildar T. Ramesh Babu said that a survey of Koorgalli Lake will be conducted by the Revenue Department in another 15 days and all encroachments will be cleared. "We have got directions from Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda and Zilla Panchayat CEO K. Jyothi to save the Koorgalli Lake. We will survey and fence the Lake after evicting encroachers," he added.

Construction debris dumped on Koorgalli Lake bund.

Another Lake in Koorgalli Alive and Trumpeting !

Mysuru, Nov. 7 (MTY&BCT)- There is another Lake in Koorgalli adjacent to Chamundi Wildlife Conservation, Rescue and Rehabilitation Centre that is run by the Mysuru Zoo providing a clear contrast with the polluted Koorgalli Lake.

In 2015, the Mysuru District Administration headed by the then Deputy Commissioner C. Shikha handed over Koorgalli Lake to Mysuru Zoo for conservation and maintenance as the Lake is adjacent to the 113-acre Rescue Centre.

Also, the Zoo Authority had requested the DC to hand over this Lake for conservation. The Zoo management had planned to conserve the Lake and turn it into a major lung space for the vicinity. It had plans to develop the Lake into a biological site — Nisargadhama — for visitors and to establish a perfect setting for conservation of birds.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Member-Secretary to Zoo Authority of Karnataka B.P. Ravi said that elephants are bathed at the Lake regularly and the water body attracts many birds. "After the Zoo took over the Lake management, the boundaries were fenced and now the Lake is recharging the ground water. Water is also available to the neighbouring fields. This Lake is approximately 17 to 18 acres and rainwater freely flows into it. As there is no human activity here, the Lake attracts birds," he added.

Mysuru, Mandya school children to get meals from Akshaya Patra kitchen

Modern centralised kitchen at Mahadevapura to be opened on Nov. 10

Mysuru, Nov. 7 (RK&BCT)- With an intention of serving hot and tasty meals to schoolchildren from Mysuru and Mandya, the Akshaya Patra Foundation run by International Society for Krishna Consciousness (ISKCON) has set up a modern kitchen in Mahadevapura, located on the Mysuru-Mandya border.

The inauguration of the new facility will be held on Sunday, Nov. 10 by Mandya MP Sumalatha Ambareesh and Srirangapatna MLA Ravindra Srikantaiah. Akshaya Patra Foundation Chairman Madhu Pandit Dasa will preside over the event.

Food for around 25,000 students can be prepared at a time in this kitchen and the system is so advanced that both ragi mudde and roti can be prepared here. It is a zero-effluent discharge unit with all the waste treated using an advanced effluent treatment plant through which biogas for food preparation and manure is prepared, said authorities from ISKCON .

Akshaya Patra Foundation started its operations in 2002 and is at present serving over 18 lakh students across the country every day. The kitchen is equipped to use fortified rice (Rice is fortified by adding a micronutrient powder to it that adheres to the grains or spraying of the surface of ordinary rice grains in several layers with a vitamin and mineral mix to form a protective coating) supplied by the State Government under the mid-day meal scheme.

The centralised kitchen will serve freshly cooked, nutritious and tasty mid-day meals to children. Through the new kitchen, Akshaya Patra will serve children of 154 schools in Mandya and Mysuru districts. Akshaya Patra will also be feeding 600 children on its own.

"We are continuously leveraging technology to multiply our reach. The state-of-the-art kitchens have become a subject of study and have attracted curious visitors from around the world. Our partnership with the Government of India and various State Governments, along with the persistent support from corporates, individual donors, and well-wishers have helped us to grow from serving just 1,500 children in 5 schools in 2000 to serving 1.8 million children," ISKCON sources said.

Akshaya Patra Foundation is the first NGO in Mandya to serve mid-day meals to school students. Besides serving nutritional food to the students, the Foundation is also planning to use this facility to impart quality life skills to students. The Kitchen is a zero discharge unit with all the waste generated, including water is processed in six phases and reused. The idea is to serve the students of both Mysuru and Mandya regions, ISKCON sources said.

Rs.50 lakh released for War Memorial in city

Mysuru, Nov.7 (RK&DM)- After a long wait, the construction of a War Memorial in city is finally seeing the light of the day with the State Government releasing Rs.50 lakh for the project that is estimated to cost Rs.1.41 crore.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar said that the War Memorial that is being built in honour of soldiers who had laid down their lives for the country is proposed to come up near the NCC Group Headquarters located close to the DC's office.

The project has got administrative nod from the Government following which Rs.50 lakh has been released now for the project that is estimated to cost Rs.1.41 crore, the DC said.

Pointing out that tenders will be invited shortly, Sankar said that the works on the War Memorial will begin soon. He further said that the Government, in a letter dated Nov.2, 2019, has put forward two conditions — one, to ensure that the money sanctioned is spent only for the purpose for which it is released and two, submission of a periodic audit report on the expenditure of funds, along with utilisation certificate.

It may be mentioned here that Mandetira N. Subramani of VeKare Ex-Servicemen Trust had submitted a proposal to the Government and the Mysuru District Administration in the year 2000 itself to build a War Memorial. It was also proposed to name the 'Sainik Aram Ghar' near DC Office after Squadron Leader Ajjamada Bopayya Devayya, MVC (posthumous).

Subramani, who is also the Honorary Legal Advisor of Mysuru-Kodagu Ex-servicemen Welfare Association, then had also claimed that the land for the construction of a grand War Memorial in front of the NCC Group Headquarters located very close to the DC's Office was earmarked in 2000 as per his proposal.

The then War Memorial Trust Chairman Maj. Gen. C.K. Karumbaya (Retd.) too had taken an initiative and had come up with a plan to set up an auditorium at the site in order to inspire the youth to join Armed Forces.

Dasappa Circle for over an hour which inconvenienced motorists and pedestrians. The City Police had deployed over a hundred Policemen to regulate the crowd.

Shivakumar will address the party workers at the Congress Office which was a buzz of activity right from the morning. The entire site of the office was covered with shamiyana with the building itself specially decorated.

MLAs Tanveer Sait and R. Narendra, former MLA M.K. Somashekar, former MP R. Dhruvanarayan, City Congress President R. Murthy, District President Dr. B.J. Bangladesh eyes for a series win

Rajkot, Nov. 7 (UNI) - Mahmudullah's men are riding high after winning their first T20I against India held at Arun Jaitely Stadium in New Delhi on Nov.3. But, can they capitalise to seal the series with another win when they meet at Saurashtra Cricket Association Stadium for the second T20I later in the day? Only the time will tell.

The win in Delhi in tough conditions was just what Bangladesh needed after a tumultuous few weeks and with several of their big names missing. The visitors showed maturity in taking the game deep on a slow surface and were rewarded for it.

Meanwhile, India will be under pressure to avoid another limited-over series defeat at home after losing to Australia earlier in the year and drawing a series with South Africa. In the absence of Jasprit Bumrah and Bhuvneshwar Kumar, India's concern is their death bowling. Shardul Thakur is another bowling option for captain Rohit Sharma, while Sanju Samson and Manish Pandey are batsmen waiting on the bench. India, though, might choose to give their playing XI a longer rope before forcing any drastic changes.

India leg-spinner Yuzvendra Chahal said, "It is not about pressure. It is a three-game series, not a knock-out game, so obviously one will win, one will lose, and that day they played better than us. We are one down and still two matches to go, and obviously if we believe in ourselves, we will come back."

Bangladesh wicket-keeper batsman Mushfiqur Rahim said, "I said to the journalists before leaving Bangladesh that the only way to return to the right track would be with a couple of wins in India. It will bring back smiles and calmness to the team and the nation."

WORD OF THE DAY

Posthaste

Pronunciation: POHST-HAYST.
Meaning: With all possible speed.
Origin: In the 16th century, the phrase "haste, post, haste" was used to inform posts (as couriers were then called) that a letter was urgent and must be hastily delivered. Posts would then speedily gallop along a route with a series of places at which to get a fresh horse or to relay the letter to a fresh messenger. William Shakespeare was one of the first to use a version of the phrase adverbially in Richard II. "Old John of Gaunt ... hath sent post haste / To entreat your Majesty to visit him," the Bard versified. He also used the phrase as an adjective (a use that is now obsolete) in Othello: "The Duke ... requires your haste-post-haste appearance," Lieutenant Cassio reports to the play's namesake. Today, the word still possesses a literary flair attributable to the Bard.
Example: "These goats show almost nothing of the skittishness that we tend to expect of wild, hoofed mammals such as deer and elk, which almost always flee posthaste the instant they see a person (or, often as not, given the sensitivity of their senses, they smell or hear one)." — Jayson Jacoby.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Pearls before swine

Meaning: Items of quality offered to those who aren't cultured enough to appreciate them.
Origin: This expression is usually expressed in the negative proverbial form - 'don't cast your pearls before swine', and is found in the Bible, Matthew 7:6, first appearing in English bibles in Tyndale's Bible, 1526: Nether caste ye youre pearles before swyne.
It had existed in the language for some time before that, in various forms. It may have migrated from France, as it is found in a Middle French text from 1402 as 'jeter des perles aux pourceaux'. It is also found in Middle English, in Langland's Piers Plowman, which is of uncertain date, but appeared around the same time:
Nolite mittere, Man, margerie perlis Among hogges...
The biblical text is generally interpreted to be a warning by Jesus to his followers that they should not offer biblical doctrine to those who were unable to value and appreciate it.

QUOTE BOX

I feel undressed if I don't have my pearls on. My pearls are my security blanket. —Lady Sarah Churchill

Do not end your life with ENDS

Support PM Modi in prohibiting deadly e-cigarettes in India

Prime Minister of India Narendra Modi reiterated the intent of his Government to ban Electronic Nicotine Delivery System (ENDS) or Electronic Cigarettes or Vaping at the recent United Nations General Assembly.

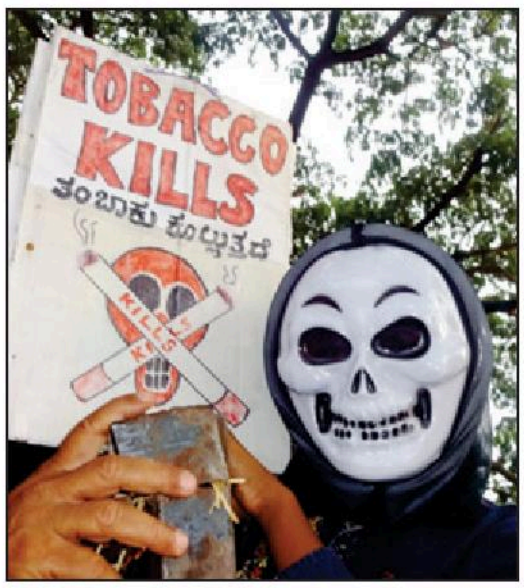
Following this, on Sept.18, 2019, the Ministry of Health has made public a Bill (titled: The Prohibition of Electronic Cigarettes (Production, Manufacture, Import, Export, Transport, Sale, Distribution, Storage and Advertisement) Bill, 2019) for comments from public before Nov.8, 2019.

It is the duty of non-smokers and all those concerned with public health to support our Prime Minister Modi in this noble task of prohibiting the use of ENDS that is catching up with the youths and even school children world-wide like wildfire.

As we are aware, tobacco in any form is harmful to the health of the people who smoke and also to those who are inhaling second hand smoke.

Since there is nothing good about tobacco in any form and it is now conclusively proven that electronic cigarettes (and other new technologies, collectively called electronic nicotine delivery devices or ENDS) are deleterious for health and through flavours and design induce youth and children to this new form of addiction.

In recent years India has witnessed an unbridled growth of trade and use of ENDS. Increasingly media reports have shown that the problem of ENDS use in schools and among under-aged users was found to be high. There is ample evidence on use of ENDS resulting in dual use and cause of substance use. There is also an explosion of new cases that are being reported from across the globe from the harms of using ENDS and the like devices.



Therefore, I appeal for support to PM and Government of India in introducing the ENDS Prohibition Bill with the following short email to: ntcp.mohfw@gmail.com before 8th November:

"I support Prime Minister of India Narendra Modi and his Government in introducing the Prohibition of Electronic Cigarettes (Production, Manufacture, Import, Export, Transport, Sale, Distribution, Storage and Advertisement) Ordinance/Bill, 2019. In addition, I urge the Government of India to also ban all tobacco products, consumption of which are detrimental to the health of the people. I also appeal to Government of India to help tobacco farmers to take up alternate crops farming for ensuring food security of the nation instead of growing the poisonous weed like tobacco."
